SIXTY-SEVENTH YEAR

The Prime Minister Returns

Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King, looking as fit as the proverbial fiddle, waves from the platform of his private car in Montreal recently as he passed briefly before going on to Ottawa to be present at the opening of Parliament. The Premier has completed a five weeks' visit to the Continent and the United Kingdom where he attended the wedding of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh.

Aged Man Is Killed By Tram on Jasper

A 77-year-old man, apparently bewildered when caught in the centre of Jasper avenue between two passing street cars, died in hospital Sunday a few minutes after being struck by one of the trams.

POLICE SAID the man is James H. Shaw, 302 Alexandra block. At the time of the accident he was accompanied by his wife who was uninjured. The driver of the street car which struck the man was said to be G. A. Newell, 1774 91 street.

The elderly man was struck when crossing Jasper avenue from north to south at 100 A street about 4:47 p.m. Officials at the General Hospital reported to police at 5:30 p.m. that Shaw had died.

Larry Scott Fricker, 9515 101 avenue, an eye-witness, told police he was behind the couple and about to cross the street also. He said he saw two street cars coming one after the other.

Alberta Government Clarifies Position

The provincial government is not prepared to participate in any scheme to provide additional housing for the City of Edmonton, Mayor Harry Ainlay will report to city council Monday night when aldermen resume consideration of a commissioners report dealing with the city's participation in the new Dominion government's housing plan for providing low cost rental dwellings for veterans.

THE PROVINCIAL government, in its communication to Mayor Ainlay, takes the stand that housing for veterans is the sole responsibility of the Dominion government, and that any subsidization of city housing for veterans is bound to be at the expense of other veterans not eligible for participation.

In their report to council the commissioners state "they cannot help but agree with the provincial government's argument, it being their feeling that the Dominion government should assume all charges required to house returned men."

They express the opinion that council should very seriously consider the responsibility of the city in further subsidization of houses in view of the position taken by the Dominion government.

Attach No Blame To Calgary Hospital

No blame should be attached to Calgary hospital authorities who had refused admission to Dorothy Olsen of Millet, formerly of Edmonton, who died in a hotel room at Calgary Friday, according to provincial health authorities here.

"THERE IS NO proof that she would have lived one minute longer had she been in a hospital," said one doctor on the staff of the provincial health department.

From the description of her illness he thought the treatment she had been given in a hotel was as effective as she would have received in a hospital.

"The investigation could possibly be made" he countered when asked if the government intended to probe circumstances of the case, "people die at any place, you know."

Alberta is very fortunate insofar as the proportion of hospital beds to the population is concerned, he pointed out. There are 15 beds per 1,000 of the population. This province leads all others in this regard, with only

Great Britain Quits Palestine Next May 15

From AP and BUP Dispatches
 Fresh violence flared today in Palestine as Arab leaders converged on Cairo to decide how they will oppose the partition of the Holy Land. Already 91 persons have been killed in Palestine in nine days of communal rioting over the United Nations decision and at least 219 have been killed in the Middle East.

The fiery battle of Tel Aviv was renewed during the morning and five more Jews were killed.

Three other Jews and one Arab died in separate incidents. Seven Jews and an Arab were killed in other actions during the night. A British policeman was killed in Haifa tonight.

ARAB ASSASSINS killed Joshua Gieberman, one of the top officers of the Jewish Hagana defence force. Gieberman was shot by two Arab gunmen when he was driving his automobile after being an escorted motor convoy traveling from Jerusalem to Tel Aviv.

The ranking Hagana leader was shot just as Hagana prepared to take over the police of the coastal plain from Tel Aviv to Petah Tikva, where half the Jewish population of Palestine is concentrated.

LEADERS OF ALL seven Arab nations converged, meanwhile, in Cairo to plan how to turn their

Paris Strike Proves Failure

PARIS, Dec. 8.—(AP)—The Communist-dominated General Confederation of Labor (CGT) suffered a sharp setback today when a two-day wage strike in Paris and other cities failed to bring about a general strike in support of the CGT's demands for a 10 per cent wage increase.

At the same time a five-day "warning strike" of government workers, called by the CGT in an attempt to pull approximately 1,000,000 civil servants off their jobs, met with similar success.

THE STRIKE started for some groups of government employees last Friday and was due to end today. It was called off by the union because it was "a failure."

A spokesman for the Paris transport system said the subway and bus strike had been called off by the union because it was "a failure."

Headquarters of the CGT still are in Paris.

Excise Tax Plan Is Modified

OTTAWA, Dec. 8.—(CP)—Finance Minister Abbott today announced that he had agreed to make some modifications in the excise tax program which he outlined Nov. 17 along with plans for the restrictions of imports.

He said the 25 per cent tax on electric or gas refrigerators, air conditioning equipment, oil burners and oil burning equipment, generally will apply only when these items are adapted to household use or for use in a business.

At the same time the tax will be extended to cover air conditioning equipment, or filtering equipment for the same use.

AT THE WEEK end in Ottawa, the tax will be withdrawn.

Reparations Of 10 Billions Also Sought

LONDON, Dec. 8.—(AP) Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia, today listed $10,000,000,000 reparations and repeal of the economic boycott of the British and American zones as the price of Russian agreement to the economic unification of Germany.

Under western pressure, Molotov detailed Russia's demands on German reparations for the first time since the foreign ministers' council convened Nov. 25.

He coupled his reparations demand, a reiteration of previous Russian figures, with an attack upon Anglo-American plans for economic revival of their occupation areas.

THESE HE SAID, were "aimed at the liquidation of Germany as an independent state."

The Russian statement came after State Secretary Marshall of the United States, British and French representatives in a three-power meeting last night.

Death Penalty Sermon Topic

Taking as his theme "Doing Good" the Rev. J. Gordon Trover, minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Sunday night directed attention to the movement on foot in Great Britain to abolish capital punishment, at least for an experimental period of five years. One way of doing good, said Mr. Trover, is by presenting the truth. I want to draw your attention to an editorial in last Friday's issue of the Edmonton Bulletin on the subject of capital punishment," he said.

"In this editorial the Bulletin has presented some factual information which may be new to some of us which indicates that in the states of Minnesota and Wisconsin which have no capital punishment, the rates of homicide are considerably lower than in Tennessee and Indiana both of which have capital punishment."

"The Bulletin has rendered good service in publishing I want to endorse this stand from this pulpit as we should endorse all good undertakings. In addition I want to add two other things. Capital punishment in the United States was different to capital punishment as practiced today. Then it was of a brutal nature and was carried out in summary fashion. Men and women executed today die a thousand deaths while awaiting execution. Secondly for every execution today, a life is saved behind enemy lines. It is doubtful if we are called upon to punish these innocent people so severely. I hope that legislators anti-Zionist campaign into a major battle after the British give up their old League of Nations mandate over Palestine.

Meanwhile Britain informed the United Nations of the intended surrender her Palestine mandate May 15, government sources reported today.

British suggested that independent Arab and Jewish states be established in Palestine by June 1, after a two-week transition period.

The same information said the British government had authorized creation of Arab and Jewish civil guard organizations to maintain law and order in key Holy Land areas prior to gradual concentration of all British troops in evacuation "beachheads" around Haifa.

The British troops are to be withdrawn from the Jewish areas of Tel Aviv, Petah Tsva and Ramat Gan this month, it was said.

Meanwhile this country's diplomatic representatives are continuing negotiations with Trans-Jordan to obtain units of the Arab legion to police the strategically important parts of Arab Palestine, including pipelines and installations already in the Holy Land.

It was reported that the British plan for handling over power to Arabs and Jews was subject to approval of the United Nations committee of five nations.

Unofficial British sources disclosed that an "alarming proportion" of Arab policemen were deserting to the holy war which the Arab League planned.

Representatives of the seven Arab nations arrived in Cairo to start a program for sending troops to Palestine. The league decided last October to fight against partition, but delayed plans for carrying out the decision until UN actually voted to split the Holy Land into Arab and Jewish states.

Arrangements for the Arab League meeting were completed when the exiled Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, Haj Amin El Hussein, flew into Cairo from Lebanon. Rumors close to the mufti said he planned to stay in Cairo only a short while then return to Lebanon until he can enter Palestine to direct the Arab campaign against partition.

Several Arab League or Egyptian newspaper articles have said the mufti was arriving. The mufti, it was reported, planned to thank King Farouk personally for the hospitality which Egypt has given him.

Arab youth organizations were reported opening "enlistment offices" everywhere throughout the Middle East, and the Jews countered by announcing that registration would begin tomorrow of every Jewish man between 17 and 25 in Palestine "for security and other essential services."

Strike Fails
The strike which the union confirmed that it had been "annulled," did not end so easily.

A few hours before the subway and bus strike was called, the government announced the arrest of nearly 1,000 persons in a campaign against sabotage in strike-crippled industries.

The interior ministry said security police had made the arrests in the last eight days—about half of them Saturday and Sunday.

"Some have been detained," he said, "Others have been fined and a few jailed."

Despite these measures, there still were scattered reports of alleged sabotage. Among these was the derailment of the Lyon-Paris express yesterday near Vain, where a section of track was reported unbolting. There were no casualties.

GOVERNMENT SOURCES said that many strikers had returned to work in the last week and that the total number out had receded considerably from the peak figure of between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000.

In rocket range of Britain's main Middle East base in the Suez Canal, ARAB LEADERS claim to have armies totalling several hundred thousand men backed up by thousands of tribesmen. Leaders of Hagana, the Jewish defence force, which came into the open in Palestine last week after years of underground training, say they have 70,000 trained men with modern arms who can defend the projected Jewish state against any Arab force that may be sent.

Some Jewish circles concede that a few outlying settlements may have to be abandoned to shorten defence lines.

The Moslem world stretches from Morocco on the west coast of Africa to the Philippines islands, and totals more than 220,000,000 people. Arabs alone, including Jews and Christians, are estimated to number 70,000,000.

The response to the Moslem and Arab calls for a Jihad (holy war) is widespread. The manpower supply will be almost unlimited. But one Arab weakness is revealed by the fact that their armies are poorly equipped by the standards of modern war.

The Egyptian ARMY and some others have artillery which most observers believe Hagana equals in quality. The Egyptian army generally are believed to be superior in the number and modernity of their automatic weapons and mortars.

King Ibn Saud's government in Saudi Arabia has an annual income estimated above $100,000,000 from the Arabian American Oil Company, a supplier for the United States navy and recently producing Ammanad oil for the United States. On Ibn Saud's northwest border is King Abdullah of Jordan whom he fought years ago and criticized a few months ago for publicly proposing a scheme to unite Trans-Jordan, Palestine and Syria. This situation may require the force available to aid Palestine Arabs.

ALL ARAB ARMIES with the possible exception of Trans-Jordan are short on good transport and would have difficulty moving their troops quickly.

Zionists say superior training and equipment will throw back the Arab raiders and lessen their real. The Jewish side is well financed and are deeply imbued with religious devotion to the idea of providing a refuge for the persecuted Jews of Europe in a state they can call their own.

Two issues overshadowed the London meeting as the ministers scheduled resumption of their sessions today after the Sunday recess: 1. CAN RUSSIA and the western powers find any basis for actually negotiating such practical questions as the removal of actual boundaries in Germany? They were unable to agree Saturday even on how they would go about tackling the problem.

2. If they cannot find such a basis, on which side will the responsibility fall for failure of the conference?

Marshall is expected to press Moscow for answers on three questions. Whether the Soviet minister still insists on $10,000,000,000 in reparations from Germany, how he thinks the German people could pay such a sum, and whether he will by before the council a comprehensive proposal for Germany's economic unity.

THE TENTATIVE opinion of the American delegation is that if Molotov will not answer these questions there is not much hope of going on with the conference.

HEALTH and hospital authorities generally feel provision is adequate if there are 45 beds per 1,000 of population although one province with a sweeping health insurance plan had found hospitals badly overcrowded since inception of their insurance project.

Edmonton hospitals contacted Monday felt that some provision would have been made in local hospitals for any situation similar to the Calgary one.

Though Edmonton hospitals generally are very crowded, arrangements can always be made to find accommodation for an emergency case, according to officials.

Close liaison is maintained between city hospitals so that in recent cases if all beds are in use in one hospital, room for an emergency case can be found in some other hospital either by the first hospital approached or by the patient's doctor.

"It is doubtful if any such case could happen in Edmonton, particularly if the patient seeking admission seemed to be in such a condition as to justify immediate admission and treatment," said authorities of one city hospital.

Some said one session might be adequate to show whether there would be any chance of Russian-western agreement on Germany's future. Molotov, however, appeared to be ready with a new move of his own—a long-expected demand that a German delegation chosen by the Communist-sponsored "German People's Congress" in Berlin be given a hearing by the Big Four on its views on Germany's future.

Igor Gorin Achieves Success With Recital

Igor Gorin, baritone, won the warm appreciation, and unstinted prolonged applause of a capacity audience at McDougall United Church on Saturday night when he appeared in the Celebrity Concert Series sponsored by the Women's Musical Club.

MR. GORIN was a success from the moment he entered the auditorium, with his head, winning smile, his fingers touching first the ends of his bow tie, and then the bottom of his white vest.

His smile became more infectious as the evening wore on. He obviously, was enjoying singing just as much as the audience was enjoying listening to him. In addition to interpreting the songs vocally, he added a touch of background by way of drama, gestures and pantomime. The result was a completely enjoyable and satisfying evening, one that will take its place alongside the best provided over the years by the Celebrity Series.

Mr. Gorin revealed an open voice, well controlled over its expanse, and charged with vitality, and a rich quality, especially in the full-throated notes made an instant and lasting appeal. His climaxes were performed with a multi-language diction was fluent, clear and in keeping with the spirit of the music.

Throughout the concert his approach to his songs was straightforward, sympathetic and imaginative. The sensitive shading and variety of contrasts obtained in the performance, whether of spiritual or operatic airs, testified to the artist's consummate musicianship.

The program was skillfully knit was filled to capacity on Friday night when the Schoolboys band appeared in concert. T. V. Newlove, the bandmaster and his assistant, W. O. Murray won warm appreciation as a result of the performance. The program was divided into three sections, junior, senior and combined. In all three the young musicians proved themselves capable, not only as to individual competency, but in ensemble playing as well.

In addition, the high-stepping majorettes, always a feature of this organization's concerts, were in their best form and gave a scintillating performance.

Both Mr. Newlove and Mr. Murray merit warm praise for their conducting and direction of the concert.

The band numbers were well prepared and played with technical excellence and considerable polish.

The program will be repeated Saturday night.

Famous Educationist Dr. Butler Dies at 85

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, 85, eminent educationist and eloquent spokesman for world peace who was president of Columbia University for 41 years, died early yesterday of bronchial pneumonia.

Dr. Butler, who had been blind in his later years and who had been president emeritus of Columbia since his retirement in 1945, died at St. Luke's hospital where he had been admitted after suffering an attack of indigestion.

He developed bronchial pneumonia last Thursday and his condition became critical Saturday night. He was unconscious at the end which came at 12:32 a.m.

Dr. Frank Packenham, acting president of the university, announced that funeral services for Dr. Butler will be held Tuesday in St. Paul's church on the Columbia campus to which Dr. Butler came as a 16-year-old freshman in 1878.

His efforts on behalf of international peace were rewarded in 1951 when he shared the Nobel Peace Prize with Jane Addams. He had been a staunch advocate of the League of Nations and the World Court.

OTTAWA, Dec. 8.—(CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King said yesterday that in the death of Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler at New York, Canada shared with the United States the loss of one who has been foremost in the promotion of international understandings, unity and cooperation, and a fearless defender of human rights, of liberty and democracy.

"He never failed to welcome an opportunity to further the friendly relations between the United States and Canada," Mr. King said. "He repeatedly referred to the relationship between Canada and the United States as an example to the world."

Officials State Here: Dealers "Staggered" By Recent Auto Tax

Canadian automobile dealers were not surprised by the recent ban on new automobiles imported from the USA, but were "staggered" by the 25 per cent tax added to wholesale prices of Canadian-manufactured passenger cars in recent dollar-savings regulations.

These were views expressed by H. I. Wilson, Calgary, president of the Federation of Auto Dealer Associations of Canada and Howard B. Moore, Toronto, managing director of the federation.

The two officials are on a regular coast-to-coast tour of Canadian cities, visiting with affiliated sections of the federation. In Edmonton Monday they were attending a meeting of the Northern Alberta section of the federation being held in the Macdonald hotel.

They also plan to confer with Frank Wolfe, Edmonton automobile dealer and a director of the Canadian federation.

The two officials will address the gathering here, outlining the position of Canadian automotive dealers as a result of the new regulations.

"We realized that some drastic action would have to be taken by the Dominion government to save the critical U.S. dollar short situation and expose a temporary ban on imported American cars but the new 25 per cent tax on low-priced cars made the situation even more critical," Mr. Wilson said.

"We are not disposed to act hastily, however," Mr. Wilson said. "At present we are urging the federal government to put the new quotas into operation as quickly as possible and also detail the basis of percentage increases in taxes."

The federation officials feel that the increase in tax is a heavy blow to many veterans who require cars with which to rehabilitate themselves.

The actual increase in the tax is, however, not so great as people would think. It is up to $10. Most of the low-priced cars sold in Canada are made in this country. About 70 per cent of all passenger automobiles sold in the Dominion are made in Canada. Before the percentage was about 85 per cent.

An interesting aspect of car prices pointed out by Mr. Wilson is that of a total increase in pre-war prices of about $400 to the low-priced line, $400 to the high-priced line, $400 to the high-priced line, $400 to the high-priced line.

Steel is still the key material short in supply.

Canadian car manufacturers are not nearly up to supplying the demand as yet.

The present tax increases are 25 per cent on cars selling at $1,000 with an additional tax of 50 per cent on the next $800, and 75 per cent on the amount in excess of $1,800.

Sees "Big Boom" In Yukon Area

Supply manager for War Assets Corp., for the Whitehorse district for the last year, Con Farrell, former northland bush pilot, was in Edmonton Saturday en route to his home in Victoria, B.C.

Mr. Farrell predicted that the Yukon Territory will experience a "big boom" in the next few years. Gold mining operations are constantly increasing in scope, he said.

"Whitehorse is experiencing a building boom. It is almost impossible to get a house to live in," Farrell said.

Sale of equipment and facilities through War Assets has been going ahead steadily during the past summer but there is still a considerable amount left to be disposed of.

Officers of War Assets at Whitehorse will be closed for the winter months and reopened in the spring.

Four Injured Week-End Toll

Four persons were injured and police Monday were looking for two hit and run drivers as a result of traffic accidents during the week-end.

Mr. L. Page, 1435 96 street, was taken to the Royal Alexandra hospital suffering cracked ribs and a broken arm.

Mr. and Mrs. Page had just left a blue and white street car at 95 street and 114 avenue and were crossing the street when a car driven by a woman struck them.

The car driver then turned west on 114 avenue, put out his lights and drove off in a hurry.

Police investigations allege that the car did not stop to wait for the street car but had gone around to the east on the wrong side.

Mr. Page said the car was a 1935 model, grey or sand in color.

Autos driven by William J. Hancock, 12319 115 street, and Joel P. Thompson, 11520 77 street, collided at the intersection of 124 street and 106 avenue about 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Thompson and her grandchild received a bruising and shaking up. Thompson's car was pushed up against a light standard.

Editha Bell, Salvation Army hotel, received a shaking up when struck from behind by an automobile while walking on the road and pulling a wagon near the north approach to the High Level bridge about 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

After striking the man the car carried on until chased by a motorist and forced to a halt. The driver of the auto then inquired if the man was hurt and when finding he had only been shaken up he drove off again. Police said the man who chased and caught the driver was Ted McCourtney, 12429 77 street.

With Philharmonic Orchestra British Singer Wins Triumph at Concert

In the presence of an audience that filled nearly every seat, and with Randall Stevens, British baritone as soloist, the Edmonton Philharmonic Orchestra gave its second concert of the current season at the Strand Theatre on Sunday night.

The ORCHESTRAL program was made up of a Russian "Rhapsody in A Major" overture, Beethoven's Second Symphony in D, Grieg's Peer Gynt Suite No. 1, Arthur Benjamin's "Jamaican Rhapsody" and the overture to Offenbach's opera "Orpheus in the Underworld."

Mr. Stevens sang three popular songs to the Evening Star from Wagner's "Tannhauser," two from Verdi's "A Masked Ball" and a song from "The Bohemians."

The general level of the performance was on a higher plane than at the opening concert. The ensemble has "shaken down" considerably and the playing was straightforward and energetic at all times, with periods in which there was admirable finesse, delicate balance and significance of detail.

To have prepared and presented a program of this magnitude, considering the difficulties in the ability of the orchestra to reach objectives when it tries. The performance was not only a triumph for the orchestra but a triumph for the conductor.

Mr. Stevens, making his first major public appearance here since his arrival from England, was in excellent voice. His singing of the three popular songs testified to the thoroughness of his preparation for opera, his command of the gentle art of singing and his comprehensive interpretive skill.

He caught and presented the varying moods of the aria in admirable style and with a fine voice, possessing power, range and high quality, he made a memorable contribution to the success of the concert. J. O.

As Probe Continues

Says Welfare Aides Need More Training

None of the officials of the provincial department of welfare possesses sufficient minimum training to carry out welfare work, according to Dr. Charlotte Whittington.

ON THE STAND Monday morning during the probe into the Alberta child welfare department, Dr. Whittington delivered her final allegations against the department and its officials.

Dr. Whittington also charged Monday that the department of public welfare has failed to set out, promulgate and enforce proper standards of welfare service, although enjoying almost unlimited power and under statutory obligation to do so.

The lack of industrial and training schools in Alberta, and the need for observation clinics also were mentioned in Dr. Whittington's evidence Monday.

She stated that according to the Edmonton Council of Social Agencies, 100 per cent of the girls dealt with at the Good Shepherd Home are of non-Catholic belief. Dr. Whittington said this is contrary to the provisions of the Child Welfare Act.

First question Dr. Whittington asked for the Alberta government, asked witness in the cross-examination was: "Do you consider an expert in certain fields?" Whittington said she preferred to see the child welfare service experience in the development of social work and administrative practices, services and administration in Canada.

In answer to another question by Dr. Smith, Dr. Whittington said that she was reasonably experienced in social security work and had written a book on the subject.

The year was 1830...

...weakened Europe liked her wounds after the Napoleonic Wars. Battle-weary eyes turned to a new land... and in this one year—1830—over 25,000 immigrants arrived in Canada.

Alone in a strange and sparsely settled land, they set their strength, their youth, their courage to the task of building a new life for themselves... and for their children.

How well they succeeded is shown by Canada today... once more the New Land to which we welcome immigrants from overseas. May these "New Canadians" carry on the tradition... eagerly seeking the duties of citizenship with its right to the free, unhampered exercise of the franchise.

When YOU cast your vote at every election—municipal, provincial, federal—you are exercising a duty and privilege passed, worked and fought for by your forefathers. Your vote protects the future of your children. It falls to this duty is no less than a good citizen.

Bridge

By William E. McKenney
 Not long ago I had the pleasure of playing a game of bridge about my neighborhood. The partner was Captain Robert Thompson, who had just retired from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. He is a very experienced player and a very good one.

He lost the first trick to the ace of clubs and when West came back with the queen of diamonds, he was in a bit of a predicament. He had to decide whether to play the ace or the king.

NORTHERN WINTER TRAFFIC
YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T.—All outgoing lanes to the Yellowknife mining area are now strong enough to bear the weight of heavy cargo planes. The temperature last week stood at 35 below zero and the area is again open to travel following a late freeze-up. A. C. Burton, resident engineer of Dalmine Northwest Mines reports that two big Douglas planes landed successfully on Matthews lake, at the Dalmine mine with mail-carrying equipment and machinery.

Rumours have freed the grain markets from all government control in order to stimulate grain production, and bring food into the cities.

Market Reports

Stock-Market Summary

TORONTO—Golds moved into a sharp retreat as continued lack of good news for the industry discouraged support. MONTREAL—Although fractional declines were in a majority, most stocks were unchanged in quiet trade. NEW YORK—Recoveries dominated the market although many leaders failed to make much of a comeback. CALGARY—Oil shares continued their upward trend of last week on optimism, but later reacted to small losses.
